2. The criminal courts are authorized to pay, at the rates specified below, the expenses (a) of complainants or witnesses, whether for the prosecution or for the defence (1) in cases in which the prosecution is instituted, or carried on by, or under the orders, or with the sanction, of the Government, or any Judge, Magistrate, or other public officer, or in which it shall appear to the presiding officer to be directly in furtherance of the interests of the public service; and (2) in all cases entered in column 5 of schedule II appended to the Criminal Procedure Code, as not bailable; and (b) of witnesses in all cases in which they are compelled by the Magistrate of his own motion to attend under the provisions of section 540 of the Code.

3. If a witness is summoned at the instance of the complainant or accused under section 244, his expenses shall not be withheld from him except on the ground of failure to do his duty as a witness when summoned.

4. As a general rule, the allowances to be paid to complainants and witnesses shall be a diet allowance calculated at the following rates:—

- (a) For the ordinary labouring class of natives, 2 annas per diem.
- (b) For natives of higher rank in life, 4 annas per diem.
- (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, a diet allowance according to circumstances up to a limit of Rs. 3 per diem.

6. Other travelling expenses will be given only when the journey could not have been performed on foot, or in the case of persons whose age, position, and habits of life render it impossible for them to walk. In such cases, in addition to diet allowance and ferry tolls, travelling allowance shall be given at the following rates:—

- (1) When the journey is by rapid dāk by road, the actual expenses incurred up to a maximum limit of 4 annas a mile.

- (2) When the journey is, wholly or partly, by rail—

7. Notwithstanding the above rules—

- (1) Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their public capacity shall receive nothing from the Court. In this case they are entitled to travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their private capacity may be paid by the Court and may retain any travelling allowance due to persons of corresponding rank under these rules, but no diet allowance, and they shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations.

(2) To witnesses following any profession, such as Medicine or Law, a special allowance shall be given according to circumstances.

The 25th June 1895.

Revised Rules for the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts.

UNDER the provisions of section 544 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act X of 1882), the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General of India in Council, been pleased to prescribe the following revised rules for regulating the payment on the part of Government of the expenses of complainants and witnesses in cases coming before the criminal courts.

2. The criminal courts are authorized to pay, at the rates specified below, the expenses (a) of complainants or witnesses, whether for the prosecution or for the defence (1) in cases in which the prosecution is instituted, or carried on by, or under the orders, or with the sanction, of the Government, or any Judge, Magistrate, or other public officer, or in which it shall appear to the presiding officer to be directly in furtherance of the interests of the public service; and (2) in all cases entered in column 5 of schedule II appended to the Criminal Procedure Code, as not bailable; and (b) of witnesses in all cases in which they are compelled by the Magistrate of his own motion to attend under the provisions of section 540 of the Code.

3. If a witness is summoned at the instance of the complainant or accused under section 244, his expenses shall not be withheld from him except on the ground of failure to do his duty as a witness when summoned.

4. As a general rule, the allowances to be paid to complainants and witnesses shall be a diet allowance calculated at the following rates:—

- (a) For the ordinary labouring class of natives, 2 annas per diem.
- (b) For natives of higher rank in life, 4 annas per diem.
- (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, a diet allowance according to circumstances up to a limit of Rs. 3 per diem.

5. In addition to the above, charges for toll at ferries will be allowed at the authorized rates to the extent to which they may have been actually incurred.

6. Other travelling expenses will be given only when the journey could not have been performed on foot, or in the case of persons whose age, position, and habits of life render it impossible for them to walk. In such cases, in addition to diet allowance and ferry tolls, travelling allowance shall be given at the following rates:—

- (1) When the journey is by rapid dāk by road, the actual expenses incurred up to a maximum limit of 4 annas a mile.
- (2) When the journey is, wholly or partly, by rail—
 - (a) For the ordinary class of natives, third class railway fare.
 - (b) For natives of higher rank in life, intermediate class railway fare; except in the case of the Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, where second class railway fare may be allowed.
 - (c) For Europeans and Natives of superior rank, second class railway fare.
- (3) In the Eastern Districts of Bengal, where the only mode of travelling is by water, the actual expenses incurred for boat-hire up to a limit of Rs. 2 per diem.

7. Notwithstanding the above rules—

- (1) Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their public capacity shall receive nothing from the Court. In this case they are entitled to travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations. Government servants when summoned to give evidence in their private capacity may be paid by the Court and may retain any travelling allowance due to persons of corresponding rank under these rules, but no diet allowance, and they shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance under the Civil Service Regulations.
- (2) To witnesses following any profession, such as Medicine or Law, a special allowance shall be given according to circumstances.

8. Officers will be held responsible that parties of witnesses are brought to court together as far as possible, so as to save expense. The hire of more than one boat shall not be allowed in one case, unless the presiding officer is satisfied that the witnesses could not have arranged to come together.

9. The number of days for which diet allowance should be granted will be determined by the officer ordering payment in each case.

10. For this purpose and for regulating the reimbursement of tolls paid, a table shall be prepared and kept in each court, showing the distance of each thana from the Sadar station and subordinate stations, the number of intermediate ferries to be crossed, and the authorized rates of charges for tolls at each of these ferries, the existence or absence of roads or waterways being also noted in the table.

The above rules are issued in supersession of all existing rules, and cancel Judicial Department circulars—

NOTIFICATION.

The following rules framed by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, under section 100 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, with the approval of Government, are published for general information:—

OPERATIONS ON GOODS IN A WAREHOUSE.

1. Before any operation is performed in a warehouse, an application, stating the exact nature of the proposed operation, must be made to the Collector of Customs.
2. The officer of Customs deputed will compare the marks in the application with those on the goods and, where necessary, ascertain the actual quantity of the goods prior to the operation and record the same.
3. When the operation is completed, the officer will ascertain the quantities, if necessary, and record and sign the new account of the goods.

Racking and vatting.

4. Racking from cask to cask may be performed in a warehouse, and casks in bad condition may have their contents racked out into sound casks.
5. Empty casks must be properly drained before removal from a warehouse.
6. The operation of putting wines or spirits together in a vat may only be performed in a compartment of a warehouse fitted and used for that purpose only, unless the vat is a close covered vessel which has been accurately gauged, and of which the hatch and discharge cock can be secured by locks, the keys of which will remain with the bonding department.
7. Vats must be distinctly marked with their numbers and capacity in gallons. The strength of spirits taken from a vat is to be ascertained by a sample from each cask.
8. After any spirits have been racked from a vat, the remainder must be drawn off before any more spirits are put into the vat.

Blending rules.

9. Applications for permission to the blending of spirits or wines in bond in the same warehouse are to be presented to the Collector of Customs.
10. Each application must contain a full description of the spirits or wine to be mixed, and must be accompanied by a fee at the rate of Rs. 7 per diem, to cover the pay of an officer of Customs, to be deputed by the Collector, in whose presence the blending must be effected. The Collector may at his discretion accept the fee for half a day at the above rate.

11. The amount of liquor drawn from each cask for the purpose of blending will be shown as cleared on the original bond. If any deficiency be found on emptying a cask, duty thereon will at once be levied under section 116, but allowance under section 117 for such deficiency or any portion of it may be subsequently made by the Chief Customs Authority if sufficient grounds exist.

12. The blend, when effected, will be retested and regauged, and a fresh bond will be made out for the duty found leviable thereon.

13. For the purpose of calculating the period of three years under section 103, and the allowances for ullage and wastage under section 116, the date of the new bond will be taken to be the date on which the earliest of the bonds relating to any of the spirits in the blend was executed.

14. The spirits or wines blended must be the produce and manufacture of the same country.

15. The word "blend" must be cut into or indelibly marked on the vat or cask containing the blended spirits or wines. Original marks and brands must be removed, unless all the spirits or wines be of the same mark.

16. Wines and spirits may only be bottled from casks in a bottling warehouse. No other operation may be performed in such warehouse at the same time.

17. Wines and spirits intended for bottling must be removed from the warehouse to a bottling warehouse in presence of a Customs Officer.

18. Bottles must be packed immediately after filling. Each package must contain a dozen or multiple of a dozen of quarts or pints, and the bottles in each package must be of uniform size.

19. The officer deputed must record in his bottling book the number of bottles filled before they are packed: the bottles must then be packed without unnecessary delay. The officer is to satisfy himself that the proper number of bottles are placed in each case, and see that packed cases are at once closed and fastened.

20. The bonding officer will have the key of the door of the bottling warehouse.

21. The officer must see that in the labelling and corking of bottles, the provisions of the Merchandise Marks Act are observed.

22. Wines and spirits in bottle may, if it be necessary, be started into casks.

23. Wines and spirits imported in cases may, if it be necessary, be adjusted and re-packed, but not more than once while in bond. Labels and capsules may be renewed, but not changed for others not identical in terms.

24. Spirits may be methylated in a warehouse. The spirits are to be gauged and the strength ascertained prior to the operation: deficiency not exceeding legal allowance may be written off.

25. After methylation a sample must be drawn off and sent for the usual report to the Chemical Examiner.

The notification dated 10th December 1892 and published at page 1109, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th idem, is hereby cancelled.

N.B.—All applications under the above rules must, under Schedule II, 1(a) of the Court Fees Act, bear a stamp of one anna.

The 11th July 1895.

N. K. ROSE,
Offg. Secretary.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 11th July 1895.

No. 95 Marine.—The following Resolution of the Government of India, setting forth certain alterations which it is proposed to make in the existing law for regulating the pilgrim traffic by sea between British India and Arabia, is published for general information:—

RESOLUTION.

In the beginning of 1894 an International Sanitary Conference was convened at Paris to consider especially the best means of preventing the spread of cholera westwards by way of the Red Sea and Persian Gulf. The British Government accepted an invitation to join in its deliberations, and a Convention drawn up by the Conference in April 1894 was accepted by Her Majesty's Government, with reservations upon three points (to be mentioned below). The agreement is binding for five years, and is to be renewed unless notice of withdrawal is given six months before the end of that period.

As the provisions of the Convention were intended directly to affect the pilgrim traffic by sea between British India and Arabia, it became necessary to consider what amendments should be made in the law by which that traffic is at present controlled. The Government of India have been in communication with Her Majesty's Secretary of State and the Local Maritime Governments as to the best way of giving effect to these provisions, some of which introduce considerable changes into the existing arrangements. It has eventually been decided that the course which may most conveniently be adopted in all the circumstances of the case, is to remove from the operation of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, vessels engaged in the pilgrim traffic and to provide for them separately. A Bill drawn with that object is about to be introduced in the Council of the Governor-General for making Laws and Regulations, and rules aimed at carrying out all needed changes in the regulations are now being prepared and are intended to be brought into force under and simultaneously with the new law. Meanwhile the Governor-General in Council is desirous of taking this opportunity of placing before the public as early as possible full information regarding the impending changes, which are in some respects of considerable importance, and which will, it is expected, be in force in time to regulate the pilgrimage to the Hajj of the year 1896.

2. The following are the matters in which changes have to be made by legislation :—

(i) The definition of a "pilgrim ship."

By section 5 (2) of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, a passenger on a ship to which that Act applies is defined to be "a native of Asia or Africa of the age of twelve years or upwards, who is not on the articles of the ship as one of the crew," but the term does not include either a passenger in attendance on a person other than a native of Asia or Africa, or a child under one year of age, and in the computation of passengers for any of the purposes of the Act, two persons of the age of one year or upwards and under the age of 12 are reckoned as one passenger. The Act does not apply to any steam-ship not carrying as passengers more than 60 natives of Asia or Africa (or any less number down to 30 which may be fixed by the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, as the minimum). In accordance with the terms of the Convention every individual, of whatever age, will be reckoned as a pilgrim in the proposed Bill, the provisions of which will be made applicable to all vessels carrying pilgrims, subject to the proviso that no vessel is to be reckoned as a pilgrim ship which, besides its ordinary passengers, among whom may be included pilgrims of the superior classes, embarks pilgrims of the lowest class in a smaller proportion than one pilgrim to 100 gross tonnage.

The object of the Conference, in extending the scope of the regulations to vessels to which they do not now apply, was to prevent pilgrims from being carried in ill-found craft, the sanitary arrangements on which might be insufficient or incomplete.

(ii) Notice of sailing.

By section 7 (ii) of the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1887, the master, owner, or agent of a ship is required to give not less than 24 hours' notice of his intention to sail. The Conference determined that in the case of a pilgrim ship the interval should be extended to three days, and the Bill will contain a provision modified accordingly.

(iii) The upper deck.

The Convention provides that the deck must, during the voyage, remain clear of all encumbering articles and be reserved day and night for the persons embarked, and placed gratuitously at their disposal.

A provision to this effect will be embodied in the Bill.

(iv) Hospital accommodation.

The Conference determined that there should be hospital accommodation for 5 per cent. of the pilgrims at 3 square metres (32 square feet) per head. This is considerably in excess of the present allowance. The necessary provision will be included in the Bill.

(v) Medical inspection previous to embarkation.

The Conference attached considerable importance to this matter. In addressing the Local Maritime Governments on the subject in October last, the Government of India expressed their opinion that the practice of allowing pilgrims to go on board before inspection is open to serious objection, as it opens the way to the introduction on board a pilgrim vessel of infectious or contagious diseases by persons suffering from them. The Local Governments agree in this view, though there are some practical difficulties which will have to be met. Provision will accordingly be made in the Bill in order to give effect to the decisions of the Conference that the medical examination should take place on land immediately before embarkation, and that articles contaminated by persons who have suffered from cholera or choleraic diarrhoea should not be taken on board until disinfected, nor persons suffering from those diseases permitted to embark.

(vi) Sanitary taxes at Camaran and Jeddah.

It is provided in the Convention that the Master of a pilgrim vessel must pay the whole amount of the sanitary taxes at the ports visited, and it is suggested that the amount of them might be included in the price of the ticket. The Bill will contain a provision requiring the Master to pay these fees.

This decision was adopted by the Conference because of complaints made by the Turkish authorities that Indian pilgrims often fail to pay any fees at all, and the members of the Conference felt that, unless help is given to the local authorities in realizing the proper fees, it will be less easy to press for the carrying out of local sanitary reforms the cost of which is, or should be, partly defrayable from the fees collected from pilgrims.

It is necessary here to explain that the immediate adoption of this provision presents difficulties, owing to the fact that the Turkish Government did not agree to the conditions on which the retention of Camaran as a quarantine station was assented to by the British delegates at the Conference. Those conditions were that vessels should be subjected to Indemnes—are vessels on which no case of cholera has occurred either at the port of departure or on the voyage.

Suspects—are vessels on which there has been cholera but no fresh case within seven days before arrival at Camaran.

Infectés—are vessels on which fresh cases of cholera have occurred within seven days of arrival at Camaran.

differential treatment according as they were declared, after medical inspection, to be "indemnes, suspects, or infectés. If of the first class, pilgrim ships were to be detained for 48 hours only at Camaran; if suspects they were to be detained 48 hours and to undergo a second medical inspection at Jeddah; and if infectés they were to be detained at Camaran for five days from arrival, or from the occurrence of the last case, and to undergo a second medical inspection at Jeddah.

The past practice has been for all pilgrims on vessels coming from Indian ports to be detained for ten days on shore at Camaran; if cholera or choleraic diarrhoea exists on board or breaks out during quarantine, they are detained for longer periods. It is impossible for the Government of India to declare finally what sum will have to be added on account of sanitary dues to the cost of a ticket for the voyage to Jeddah; but according to the figures supplied by the Turkish Consul-General at Bombay, about Rs. 12-8 may be taken to be the present minimum cost per pilgrim in respect of the sanitary taxes for a stay of ten days at Camaran, besides a charge of nearly Rs. 2 at Jeddah.

As the Turkish delegates at the Paris Conference announced that they would agree to the abolition of the requirement that every ship from India should be detained for ten days if the periods of detention proposed, as mentioned above, were raised to three days for indemnes, five days for suspects, and ten days for infectés, the Government of India have requested Her Majesty's Government to address the Porte with the suggestion that the rules which the Turkish delegates were prepared to accept may be adopted for the future. If this is effected, there will be a very considerable reduction in the amount of the sanitary taxes to be paid for with the price of the steamer ticket.

The Government of India, recognizing that a rigid rule requiring the prepayment of sanitary dues by every pilgrim may operate with hardship in the case of poor pilgrims, who, it appears from the reports of the Turkish authorities, are at present excused the sanitary fees when they are unable to pay them, have decided to suggest for the consideration of the Porte that ready needy pilgrims might be excused from payment of the sanitary taxes in addition to the steamer fare if they are granted passes signed by a District Officer or Political Officer on the advice of respectable Muhammadan residents of the neighbourhood in which they live, and countersigned by a Turkish Consul in India certifying that their pecuniary position justifies their exemption. It appears to the Governor-General in Council that such a measure would afford effectual relief in the case of poor Muhammadans resident in India, and His Excellency in Council trusts that it may be found possible to carry it into effect.

(vii) A second medical officer on board.

The Convention requires every vessel embarking 100 pilgrims or more to have on board a duly qualified medical officer, and a second such officer when the number of pilgrims exceeds 1,000. The first provision is in accordance with the present law; but though under the provision for the increase of space for each pilgrim (see paragraph 3 (a) below) it is unlikely that many steamers will carry more than 1,000 pilgrims, it is necessary to give effect to the Convention in this respect. This requirement will be entered in the Bill. The qualifications which these medical officers must possess will be set forth in the rules.

The Government of India, with the acquiescence of the Government of Bombay, have decided that the present compulsory call at Aden on the return journey to India is unnecessary and inconvenient in many cases. The Bill which is about to be introduced will contain the requisite provision which is not necessary to carry out the terms of the Convention, but it is in no way opposed thereto. The present requirement that every pilgrim ship from India must call at Aden, and shall not leave that port for the Red Sea without a clean bill of health, will be retained.

3. The chief points in the existing rules under the Native Passenger Ships Act, in respect of which changes have been rendered necessary by the terms of the Convention, are the following:—

(a) Increase in the space for each pilgrim.

This is the most important point in the Convention, as it will involve a considerable increase in the cost of the journey by steamer. As the law stands (section 21 of Act X of 1887), the allowance in the between decks for a steamer passenger on a long voyage (of 5 days or over) is a space of at least 9 superficial and 54 cubic feet; two children under 12 years of age, and not under one, counting as one pilgrim, and children under the age of one year not counting. By section 56 of the Act, the Governor-General in Council has power to prescribe in the case of any class of ships other provisions as regards superficial or cubic space to be available for passengers.

The Convention provides for two square metres (21½ square feet) for each pilgrim of whatever age. This is one of the points upon which the British Government made a reservation. Her Majesty's Government has, however, intimated to the French Government that a minimum standard of 1½ square metres (16 square feet) for every pilgrim of whatever age will be prescribed on all Indian pilgrim ships, and the Bill will be drawn in such a manner as to enable the Governor-General in Council to give effect thereto. This decision was arrived at as some increase of space was dictated by the best sanitary authorities and by the voice of all the European Powers, including the Porte, who are interested in the matter, though it is recognized that the additional space will cause increase in the cost of steamer tickets to the pilgrims.

(b) Water.

In accordance with the Convention, the allowance of a gallon of drinking water a day will be made for every pilgrim of whatever age, instead of to each pilgrim of 12 years of age and over (children not over 12 years, but not under one, counting as one pilgrim, and children under one year of age not counting at all) as under the present rule.

(c) Disinfecting stove.

The new rules will provide for a disinfecting stove on board ship to purify the clothes and effects of pilgrims who have suffered from cholera or choleraic diarrhoea. Provisions will also be made regarding the method of disinfecting.

(d) Latrines.

The Government of India will take this opportunity to raise the number of seats from the rate of two to that of four for every hundred pilgrims, in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee which enquired into the working of the Native Passenger Ships Act in 1890. Provision will also be made for a staff of sweepers at the rate of two for every hundred pilgrims. Further provisions will be added for the better cleansing and disinfecting of the latrines.

(e) Pilgrims' luggage.

The Convention provides that pilgrims' heavy luggage must be registered, numbered and deposited in the hold, and that pilgrims are to be allowed to keep with them only such articles as are absolutely necessary (not to exceed a maund in weight for each pilgrim). A rule will be framed to carry this provision into effect.

(f) Daily medical inspection on board.

One of the terms of the Convention requires that when there are cases of cholera in port, pilgrims shall not be embarked until after they have been collected and subjected for five days to an observation which will admit of an assurance that none of them are affected with cholera. It was, however, agreed, on the representation of the British delegates, that this observation could be practised on board ship between the time of departure from India and the call at Aden. A rule will be framed to provide for this.

(g) Second medical inspection before departure from India.

A reference was made to the Local Governments on a suggestion put forward by Her Majesty's Secretary of State as to the desirability of adding a second medical inspection of pilgrims on board just before a steamer weighs anchor. The Governor-General in Council proposes to make a rule to the effect that in cases where a pilgrim ship may be detained in harbour for more than 48 hours after the embarkation of the pilgrims, and there is reason to suspect that small-pox, cholera, yellow fever or plague may have attacked some of the pilgrims, a second medical inspection shall be made by a competent medical officer.

4. The reservations made by Her Majesty's Government from the terms of the Convention were, as noticed above, upon three points. One of these as regards space has already been mentioned in paragraph 3 (a) supra. The second reservation was regarding arrangements in the Persian Gulf, and does not call for notice here. The third was as to a provision of the Convention requiring that all pilgrims must have ample funds in their possession before they are allowed to embark. The British Government, acting on the previously declared views of the Government of India, who have always desired to facilitate the pilgrimage to the Hedjaz as much as possible, felt that this restriction upon the religious liberty of Muhammadan subjects of Her Majesty was not justifiable, and declined to accede to it.

5. It will be observed that the changes in the regulation of the pilgrim traffic between India and Arabia which are necessitated by the Paris Convention made between the chief European Powers have for their object the amelioration of the conditions under which Muhammadans perform their journey to and from the Hedjaz. At the same time it is fully recognized both by Her Majesty's Government and by the Government of India that some of these changes, especially that as regards space, will add very materially to the cost of the sea voyage. The Governor-General in Council is therefore glad to be able to intimate that the British Government have undertaken to lose no opportunity of pressing upon the Turkish Government—and, if requested, they will lend skilled officers to assist His Majesty the Sultan's Government in fulfilling—the duty of remedying the condition of affairs at Camaran in the manner indicated by the Paris Convention, and of improving the sanitary administration at Jeddah and Mecca in the way proposed by the Sanitary Council of Constantinople and the able officers who have from time to time reported to the Porte on the requirements of the situation. The Governor-General in Council also wishes to assure the Muhammadan community that he is most anxious, whilst taking measures to bring about improvements in the conditions of both the sea and the land journeys to Mecca, to impose no additional expense of an unnecessary nature, and he is also not without hope that it may be found possible to induce the Turkish Government to lessen the time for which Indian pilgrims are placed in quarantine at Camaran, and thereby to reduce the sanitary taxes which will have to be recovered from pilgrims, and also to exempt really needy pilgrims from payment of these dues.

6. It is proposed that the provisions of the Bill and the new rules shall come into force on the 1st October 1895, so as to apply to the pilgrimage which will take place in the spring of 1896. Local Governments and Administrations are requested to make the contents of this Resolution generally known as soon as possible.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2675.

The 6th August 1895.—The following papers regarding the working of the Indian Factories Act in Bengal, during the year 1894, are published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 77, dated Calcutta, the 28th March 1895.

From—C. A. WALSH, Esq., A.M.I.C.E., Special Inspector of Factories,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit my annual report on the working of the Indian Factories Act in Bengal for the year ending December 1894.

I am glad to be able to report that the provisions of the Act have on the whole been well observed throughout the year. There are at present on the register of factories 14 in the town of Calcutta, 60 in 24-Parganas, 31 in the Howrah district, 6 in Hooghly, and 19 scattered over the other districts of Bengal. Excluding jute presses at Narayanganj, of which there are 34, the majority of these presses are hand boomer presses, but I notice they are gradually being replaced by hydraulic boomer ones. They work on and off for a season extending a little over six months. Besides these, there are a number temporarily erected in Northern Bengal and Assam which I have not inspected, as it would necessitate continual travelling to no useful purpose; in fact, these presses might well be included in the category of tea and indigo plantations referred to in section 2 of the Act.

Two large mills were opened during the year—one in January for the manufacture of paper, and a jute mill in December situated in Chandernagore;* the latter being in French territory will not come within the jurisdiction of the Act. Should other mills contemplate extending their business by erecting new mills, French territory will afford them the opportunity like Gondalpara of working the mill without the annoyance of possible further interference from home in factory matters. One jute mill that has been closed for the past 18 months was re-opened in October; two other mills were closed for short periods, and the majority only worked five days a week from 1st of April till the end of June, due to the scarcity of jute and the high prices prevailing; but the new season jute, which was the largest crop on record, has since kept all mills working full time. The Hastings mill in March commenced a system of working at night as well as day in shifts by the aid of the electric light. This night work had been carefully considered by the owners before its introduction, and every effort was made by them to keep within and strictly observe the factory regulations. A number of young persons were employed in the night shift, but all appeared well over 14. I found it necessary to make some alterations in the intervals allowed for women, which were readily adopted by the manager. The mill was frequently inspected during the night working by the Civil Surgeon of Serampore, and he was satisfied regarding the ages of the operatives. I noticed many spinning frames standing for want of labour at the time of my first inspection, although a number of children applied at the gates for work; they were disqualified from entering as being too young. It is questionable whether the system will be maintained for long, as there are certain manifest objections, apart from the increased expenditure, in having to employ boys of 16 and 18 as shifters at the spinning frames.

Night work. The increased demand for labour has induced, and in all possibility will continue to induce, a large number of new hands to settle in the vicinity of mills, and more attention might be paid by owners and managers to provide suitable accommodation for them. The quarters in which the operatives live need, I think, investigation. Glance over the boundary wall of Barnagore,† or walk a hundred yards from Shamnagore, Titaghur or other large mill, and look at the miserable quarters of those whose lot it is to labour daily in the mill. A collection of filthy hovels meets the eye, constructed rudely of mud thatched with grass or old kerosine oil tins flattened out, devoid of drainage, and too crowded for a proper supply of air. It remains a marvel how human life, however accustomed to insanitary surroundings, can survive. When it is considered that so many mills are paying large dividends, it is surely not too much to ask that a few thousand rupees be annually spent on improved, well-drained, ventilated pukka quarters for the operatives, together with public latrines and urinals similar to those provided by Messrs. David and Company, Ralli Brothers, and other jute pressing firms at Narayanganj. Much has been done by some mills to provide decent housing for the workers, and more would be done if the municipalities would render some assistance in aiding the mill owners to acquire land for the purpose of building and allowing them to fill up cess-pools, and generally to improve the sanitary condition of these mill surroundings.

2. Improvement is noticeable in the latrines each year. Many that were originally constructed in a temporary manner of old material have been replaced by new well-built brick ones with cemented floors, or built of corrugated iron, known as Horbury's patent. There is still room for improvement, and a number of mills require additional accommodation to keep pace with the mill extensions and extra hands now employed. It is satisfactory for me to be able to report the improvements that have taken place in the conservancy arrangements at the East Indian Railway shops at Jamalpore. Formerly I had occasion to call attention to the limited space allotted for burying night-soil and its vicinity to the shops. The Locomotive Superintendent has now completed a small tram line to convey the night-soil to a suitable locality, well removed from the neighbourhood of the shops, and has received an offer from a native of Rs. 40 a bigha for every bigha that is manured. This is the first instance that has come to my notice of a native appreciating the value of this manure as a fertilising agent, and I hope to see other factories follow in the same lines. The time, I think, is not far distant when every manager (outside municipal limits) will see that proper use is made of night-soil on ground trenched for cultivation, instead of burying it as is at present done in some instances I can call to mind. I presume municipalities take advantage of the trenching system for the disposal of night-soil. Whether this is the case in every instance I am unable to say.

The mills are generally lime-washed annually. A few workshops and jute presses were called upon during the year to conform to the rules regarding periodical lime-washing; and the work was put in hand without undue delay. A plentiful supply of water is obtainable in the mills, but not in every instance is the water filtered. However, filtering beds and tanks are gradually being introduced, for it is noticed that unless the water is filtered in large quantities the operatives will not readily take to it.

Lime-washing.

Drinking-water.

The climate of Bengal, where cotton factories are situated, may, for the greater part of the year, be considered suitable for cotton spinning without resorting to artificial means to procure the required humidity. The mills with one exception are built on the banks of the river Hooghly, which may assist in a small way to moisten the dry air when the hot winds are blowing. I observe that throughout the year the air in the morning at 8 A.M. contains a considerable quantity of moisture, and during the months of January and February approaches saturation,* and averaging some 70 per cent. in March, 80 per cent. in April, and somewhat higher percentage of humidity in May and June. During the rainy season, or in July, August, and September, the moisture registered in the morning remains fairly constant during the day; but in the absence of rain after 10 A.M. the moisture generally falls considerably below normal (50 per cent.) at such times, and during the dry season the mills frequently resort to watering the floors or placing matting against the windows, which is constantly kept watered. In one mill humidifiers are worked when necessary, and drasophors (a patent water spray) are about to be introduced in two others. The latter appliance appears to be in general favour, although I noticed in a mill at Cawnpore in which the drasophors were at work the effect was very local, and a hygrometer placed a few feet outside the radius of the water spray hardly registered any moisture beyond what was noticeable in rooms not using the drasophors. The effect of these water sprays on the operatives has a cooling effect, but the air should then be extracted before it becomes heated. I had some conversation with the Inspector of Humidity in Manchester during the summer of 1893, and he corroborated the opinion given in Mr. Wallace's "Sanitation in India" regarding the use of artificial moisture in mills, which I quote below:—"By a fortunate coincidence the best conditions for cotton spinning are also favourable to the health of the operatives, but the moistening of the air should not be permitted or attempted without an adequate provision for the supply of fresh air to carry off the vapours as soon as it becomes too hot." It is well known that the dry air causes the yarn to break at the spinning frames, and is detrimental to the fibre in the process of carding. For this reason the windows are closed, but managers will frequently inform Inspectors that the natives prefer them shut, and when left open they (the natives) will immediately shut them directly your back is turned. This is true, but not because they prefer a close humid atmosphere to work in in preference to fresh air, but because the open windows cause additional labour in piecing the yarn, and possibly less wages as they are paid on the gross outturn. I, however, generally found a suitable number of windows open in the mills, which afford good lateral ventilation, but this has not always been the case, and I think mill managers would study their own interest if they placed air propellers in the carding and spinning rooms, and thus ensure a constant gradual change of air.

It is interesting to note how inapplicable are the rules laid down to regulate the temperature in home mills when applied to this country. In the Cotton Cloth Factories Act of 1889 any one exceeding a humidity of over 78 per cent. when the dry bulb thermometer registered over 80° would be fined, but in Bengal the mills have frequently to work with a humidity equal to saturation, the same humidity being registered by the Meteorological Society in the open. Such an excess of humidity in the home mills raised artificially with steam would be extremely harmful to the operatives, but the conditions here are very different. In Bengal the variations between the temperatures of the inside and outside of a mill are slight, and would seldom exceed 10° Fahrenheit.

3. A certain amount of sickness has occurred amongst the operatives in certain districts during the rainy season; but I am not aware whether the death-rate is above the average. The medical officers of the various districts will doubtless supply information on this point. I have already alluded to the unhealthy conditions under which so many of the native workers live, and I would here only reiterate what I have already urged that attention be given to improve these quarters.

4. The working hours in the mills, with the exception of the Hastings mill, remain the same. A few mills have ordered the electric light to increase the hours during the short days of the cold-weather months; and, while abundance of labour is always to be obtained in this country, it is doubtful if one would be justified in restricting the hours, considering the system of shifts that Indian mills adopt, and remembering the increased number of hands employed when compared with Dundee mills. As pointed out in my last report, it may also be said the majority of the workers are land-owners, and this fact may account for the quantity of leave annually taken. This is noticeable both in mills and workshops, and although the natives ask for leave, as a matter of form they take it, whether granted or not, which I think goes to prove that they are not entirely dependent on the mills as the Dundee and Lancashire operatives are.

5. I have no special remark to make regarding the employment of women and children beyond what I have already stated in previous reports. A very large number find employment in these mills (as will be observed from reference to Form I). The labour required may be termed "unskilled" except in the spinning and weaving. This offers employment to a number of old women that may occasionally be noticed feeding the carding and jute-softening machines, and I have always regarded the employment of such as creditable to the managers concerned, for it is evident they can be of little service except in so far as relieving others during the interval, or when younger members of the family are sick. This renders it possible for them to live with the family, and avoid becoming a burden on them, being able to contribute the little they earn towards the keep of the house. So long as the mill engine is constantly kept working from morning till evening, the number of women and children—I might almost add adults—employed is a matter of secondary consideration, but this is necessary if all the machines are to work, as so many daily absent themselves from Indian mills.

6. During the year there were 10 fatal accidents and 127 accidents reported as serious and 206 as slight. Taking the total number of persons employed from last year's return, viz. 139,973, or, say, 140,000, represent an average of 1 in 400 injured, or .245 per cent. I have no statistics showing the number of accidents that occur during the year in English factories; consequently am unable to make any comparison, or to state if this percentage is small. My impression is it would compare favourably with any other country. Regarding the fatal accidents mentioned above, three were caused from adjusting belts when the machinery was in motion (a large number of accidents occur annually in home mills from this cause, and no satisfactory means has yet been devised to prevent them), two men were crushed while shunting wagons on the factory sidings, one man was killed by falling down the hold of a ship docking in the Rivers Steam Navigation Company's dockyard, another lost his life by a bale of paper falling from the sling on him when loading in a boat, and one was killed by falling on the doffer roller of a jute-carding machine while he was engaged in cleaning it. Some serious accidents were noticeable amongst those reported, but on the other hand a number of slight accidents reported can hardly be considered accidents. Many of them consist of slight bruises, cuts, and falls.

During the month of September I issued a circular letter to all managers of mills and workshops of both provinces, pointing out the serious accidents that had occurred from adjusting belts while the machinery was in motion; for I considered it desirable that those in charge of machinery should be made aware of the danger of allowing men to replace belts that are not specially trained for the work. I also suggested a larger use of belt hangers, &c. A few accidents of serious nature occur annually to those working the jute-softening machine. Under these circumstances, I think it should be made compulsory to fix a self-travelling cloth at the delivery end of these machines, to avoid the necessity of taking the jute direct from the rollers. This arrangement has been fixed in a few mills with satisfactory results, and is preferable to inserting two smooth rollers (occasionally done), as they are apt to cause the jute to become jammed. The managers are, with few exceptions, most willing to adopt any device that will reduce accident if practicable, and I find the machinery generally better protected than will be found in English mills.

7. Some excellent work has been done by the Civil Surgeons in sanitary matters, also in bringing about a better supply of water, and their periodical inspection of children in the mill has a tendency to keep out small children which would otherwise creep in. I notice in some instances that warning is sent by the Civil Surgeon, intimating the date of his intended visit. I think for various reasons it would be preferable not to send any advice, as a more accurate knowledge of the mill working would then be gained. I should be glad if the Medical Inspectors would especially note the conditions of the atmosphere in cotton mills during the dry weather, as the windows at that time will be found generally closed, and ventilation insufficient.

8. A few serious fires have taken place during the year in both jute press godowns and jute mill godowns. I think it strange that mill owners and Life Insurance Companies do not make use of such means as are well known to be effective in preventing fires, knowing how difficult it is to extinguish jute when it once catches fire. A steam pipe carried into each godown, with outside means of closing the ventilators, would in time of fire at least enable every available engine to proceed to the mill before any appreciable damage would be done.

In concluding I must thank the Magistrates for the help they have rendered me by enforcing orders that have occasionally been neglected. Slight errors will always be noticeable, many of which are almost excusable when it is known how much an Indian mill manager has to contend with in dealing from morn till night with large numbers of men, which cannot always be relied on, to exert themselves in the interest of the mill.

No. 208T.G., dated Darjeeling, the 30th June 1895.

From—O. E. BUCKLAND, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I AM directed to submit the Report on the working of the Indian Factories Act, XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891, in Bengal during the year 1894. The prescribed statements, Forms I and II, are appended. The only change in the rules which took place during the year was a change in Form B (the form in which remarks of Inspecting Officers are recorded) and of the instructions relating thereto. A copy of the notification of 5th February 1895, containing the latest revision of the instructions, is appended to this report.

A jute mill, called the Imperial Jute Mill, was opened in December 1894 at Gondalpara in Chandernagore, but being in French territory, does not come under the operation of the Factory Act. Mr. Walsh, the Special Inspector, remarks on this that similar extensions are likely to be widely made, as French territory will afford them the opportunity of working the mill without the annoyance of possible further interference from England in factory matters.

2. Number of factories and the system of work.—There were 158 factories under the operation of the Act in Bengal at the commencement of the year. Twelve were brought under the Act during the year, namely, one cotton mill and one jute press in Howrah; one jute press in Jalpaiguri; seven jute presses in Dacca; one bone-crushing mill and one match factory in the 24 Parganas. Eight factories were closed or excluded from the operation of the Act. The match factory was closed before the end of the year, as were also four jute presses in Dacca; and the three jute presses named in the margin were exempted either because the number of hands working in them had fallen below 50, or because they had been worked for less than four months in the year. Thus the year closed with 162 factories on the list. A majority of the jute mills worked for only five days a week, from 1st April till the end of June, owing to the scarcity of jute and the high prices prevailing; but the jute crop of 1894, which was the largest crop on record, has since kept all mills working full time. In 71 factories work was carried on by shifts or sets, and in 75 by midday stoppages, while the remainder worked otherwise. The number of factories exempted from the rule requiring a Sunday or weekly holiday was 61, against 57 in the previous year. The four additional factories were jute presses—1 in Calcutta and 3 in Dacca.

The Hastings Jute Mill at Serampore commenced, in March 1894, a system of working by shifts at night as well in the day time by the aid of electric light. A question was asked in the House of Commons in regard to this system of work, and at the request of the Secretary of State for India, the Government of India called for a report on the facts. The Lieutenant-Governor, after due enquiry, was satisfied that the owners of the mill had not infringed the law in any respect. The services of the few boys employed at night, to whom exception was taken by the Civil Surgeon, were promptly dispensed with. A report to this effect was submitted to the Government of India with this Government's letter No. 138T.G., dated the 16th September 1894.

3. Inspections.—The total number of inspections held during the year was 626, against 509 in the previous year. Thus, on an average, each factory was inspected nearly four times. The number of inspections held by medical officers rose from 201 in the previous year to 267 in the year under review.

There are only two cases in which no inspection was made during the year; in one the factory was closed throughout the year: in the other, which occurred at Jalpaiguri, an explanation has been called for.

4. Results of inspection.—The results of inspections were generally satisfactory. The registers prescribed were found to be duly kept, and the periodical returns were submitted in due time. The suggestions of the inspecting officers received full and prompt attention from the managers of factories.

Mr. Walsh, the Special Inspector of Factories, says that he has noticed in some instances that warning is sent by the Civil Surgeon of the date of his intended visit, and he thinks that it would be preferable not to send any such intimation, as a more accurate knowledge of the working of mills would then be gained. The Lieutenant-Governor will cause the suggestion to be made to them that as a rule surprise visits are likely to be most effective. There are certain cases, however, as, for instance, where Civil Surgeon wants to have all the children mustered before him on his arrival, when it is essential for him to send notice beforehand.

5. Sanitary condition and sanitary arrangements in factories.—As reported in the previous year, the sanitary condition of the factories and the sanitary arrangements in them were generally satisfactory. The buildings were kept clean and well ventilated, and accommodation in them was sufficient. The rule as to periodical lime-washing was duly observed.

6. Quarters for the operatives.—Mr. C. A. Walsh, the Special Inspector of Factories, makes the following remarks regarding the accommodation for operatives:—

“The increased demand for labour has induced, and in all possibility will continue to induce, a large number of new hands to settle in the vicinity of mills, and more attention might be paid by owners and managers to provide suitable accommodation for them. The quarters in which the operatives live need, I think, investigation. Glance over the boundary wall of Barnagore, or walk a hundred yards from Shamnagore, Titaghur or other large mill, and look at the miserable quarters of those whose lot it is to labour daily in the mill. A collection of filthy hovels meets the eye, constructed rudely of mud thatched with grass or old kerosine oil tins flattened out, devoid of drainage, and too crowded for a proper supply of air. It remains a marvel how human life, however accustomed to insanitary surroundings, can survive. When it is considered that so many mills are paying large dividends, it is surely not too much to ask that a few thousand rupees be annually spent on improved, well-drained, ventilated pukka quarters for the operatives, together with public latrines and urinals, similar to those provided by Messrs David and Company, Ralli Brothers, and other jute-pressing firms at Narayanganj. Much has been done by some mills to provide decent housing for the workers, and more would be done if the municipalities would render some assistance in aiding the mill-owners to acquire lands for the purpose of building, and allowing them to fill up cess-pools, and generally to improve the sanitary condition of these mill surroundings.”

The owners of factories are under no legal obligation to attend to the sanitary wants of their employes when outside the limits of the factory; this duty devolves on the municipality, if any such exists. At the same time His Honour is persuaded that factory owners would find any money spent in this manner to be well laid out, owing to the improvement that would result in the health, contentment and regularity of attendance of their workmen.

The insanitary condition of the bastis inhabited by the employes of the factories at Garden Reach was referred to in paragraph 6 of the report for 1893. The main evils in this case (for the remedying of which the Municipal Administration is responsible) are (1) the overcrowding of the houses, (2) want of proper drainage, (3) want of good water-supply, and (4) want of an efficient system of conservancy. The Chairman of the Municipality has been directed to take immediate steps to initiate the necessary measures for removing these complaints.

7. Vaccination of operatives.—In paragraph 11 of the report for the year 1892, it was stated that the question of insisting on the vaccination of factory employes would be separately considered. Most of the factories in the province are situated within municipal limits in which the Bengal Vaccination Act, 1880, was in force. The operatives therefore in these factories, equally with other residents of the town, were bound to be vaccinated, and no further action has been taken than to call upon all Civil Surgeons as Superintendents of Vaccination to see that the law was carried out. As to the few factories situated outside municipal limits, the Lieutenant-Governor considered but finally rejected the proposal to apply the Vaccination Act to them specially, by treating them as ‘local areas’ within the meaning of section 1 of the Act. It was thought that the object in view would be gained by the voluntary co-operation of the managers and owners of factories with the Vaccination Department, and the Sanitary Commissioner was requested to take steps to secure this with the assistance of the Special Inspector of Factories.

8. Water-supply.—As reported in the previous year, the arrangement for the supply of drinking-water is of very varying character. Where a factory is situated within a Municipality which has a pure water-supply, nothing further is necessary: elsewhere the quality of the water used is very doubtful, except in those factories where filtered water is supplied from reservoirs on the premises. Several factories have introduced such filters, and inspecting officers have been instructed to press this matter on the attention of managers, and especially to invite them to consider the advantages offered by the Pasteur-Chamberland filter, of which excellent accounts are received. In future all District Officers will be directed to report specially into how many factories filtering arrangements have been introduced during the year.

9. Latrines.—There have been marked improvements in the latrines during the year. Many that were originally constructed in a temporary manner of old materials have been replaced by new structures built of brick with cemented floors or of corrugated iron. In the factories where both male and female operatives are employed, separate latrine accommodation is provided for each sex. Good flushing arrangements and constant use of disinfectants have been insisted on, and the number of sweepers where found inadequate, has been increased. Generally it may be said that improvements proposed by inspecting officers have been readily complied with.

10. Number of operatives.—The total number of operatives employed in the various factories was 129,729, against 139,973 reported in the previous year, but the real number should have been 126,012. The error in the figures for 1893 occurred in regard to the Alipore Jail Jute Mill, the average number of men employed in that year having been reported to be 14,201, instead of 240. The number of male adults was 101,631 against 98,511, female adults 18,206 against 17,607, boys 9,053 against 9,196, and girls 839 against 701. The Dacca return has fallen from 5,973 to 4,047, in consequence of a change introduced by the Magistrate of Dacca, who has left out a large number of coolies who were engaged on such incidental processes as collection, storage and shipment of jute, considering that they are not in any way connected with the factory, and should not be counted. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that Magistrate is correct, and directs that this system shall be invariably followed in future in counting the number of factory hands.

11. General health of the operatives.—The general health of the operatives employed in the factories in Dacca, Patna, Rajshahi, and Orissa Divisions was good during the year, no epidemic of any kind having occurred. In the Rani-ganj Paper Mill in Burdwan, cholera and influenza broke out in a most malignant form, resulting fatally in several cases. Some deaths from cholera also occurred among the employes of the Iron and Steel Works of that subdivision. In some factories in the district of Hooghly, cholera made its appearance, though the mortality was not heavy. The mill hands in some places in the 24 Parganas suffered from malarious fever, and there were also some sporadic cases of cholera; but these illnesses occurred among operatives living outside the factory premises in their own bastis, and were not due to the insanitary condition of the factories themselves. Small-pox was prevalent in this district during the year, but very few cases of the disease occurred among the factory hands.

12. Wages and general conditions of the operatives.—There was no material alteration in the rates of wages paid to the different classes of operatives in the year under report as compared with the previous year. In this connection Surgeon-Major Leahy, Civil Surgeon of the 24-Parganas, makes the following remarks:—

“In attempting to strike a correct average among the hands employed in factories, it must be borne in mind that many branches of manufactures are represented. It is common for various members of one family, consisting of men, women and children, to obtain employment together in some of the larger concerns, such as the jute and cotton mills, and in this way the total earnings of the family are very much higher than is the case with the ordinary daily labourer, who alone works for his family. Within the factories, the employes work in shifts, and their periods of work alternate with the periods of rest. Their sanitary surroundings are good; they are sufficiently clad, and they are well fed; so that, on the whole, the condition of the operatives may be said to compare very favourably with that of the outside labourer.”

The Officiating Commissioner of Burdwan, Mr. Bourdillon, observes that factory labour is more popular than work elsewhere, because it provides continuous employment, allows a liberal scale of wages, and payments are made with regularity, and the other reporting officers appear to agree generally in these remarks.

13. Employment of women.—There are no special remarks to be made regarding the employment of women beyond what was stated in the last report. The law and rules are generally observed, and as a rule light work is given to them. In the Jobra Workshop, in Cuttack, the women are employed in carrying water, removing rubbish, and sweeping the shops. In the jute factories in Dacca they are employed in cleaning and sorting jute and rope making. The old women are engaged in feeding the carding and jute-softening machine. Regarding the employment of old women, the Special Inspector of Factories writes:—

“I have always regarded the employment of such as creditable to the managers concerned, for it is evident they can be of little service, except in so far as relieving others during the intervals, or when younger members of the family are sick. This renders it possible for them to live with the family and avoid becoming a burden on them, being able to contribute the little they earn towards the keep of the house.”

14. Employment and ages of children.—In Dacca no certificate of age appears to have been applied for or granted during the year. The only case of misfeasance contained in the reports regarding the employment of children is that of the Bengal Cotton Mills in the district of the 24-Parganas, where 261 male and 25 female children are employed. The Commissioner writes:—“The manager of this mill has often been found to disregard orders and to employ children in his factory under the age of nine years.” A special enquiry has been ordered into this case. With this exception, it is said that in the 24-Parganas the ages of all were duly certified. Dr. R. S. Ashe, the Civil Medical Officer of Serampore, makes the following remarks regarding the certificates of age of children employed in the factories within his jurisdiction:—

“During the year at each inspection as many of the children as were on the premises, and who were admitted since last inspection, were paraded, and all children of doubtful ages were ordered to be examined and certified for further service. It was the one way of dealing with the question of age on the refusal of the manager to get their juvenile workers certified en masse. Still under their system it was found impracticable to examine every new child; numbers would be absent during the day of inspection, and these children would escape all examination, and there was nothing but the age entered in the book kept in the Form F, which was uncorroborated by any examination, to show that the child was not under age. I am therefore very strongly impressed with the experience of the year's working of the Act as regards children that there would be no possibility of any child under age being taken in by mistake (for I do not think for a moment that the managers would deliberately contravene the Act) if each child before obtaining service were to produce a certificate of age from the Certifying Surgeon, or, if this be found inconvenient, be made to obtain one within a week of his being taken into work.”

Mr. Duke, the Magistrate of Hooghly, however, correctly observes that the managers cannot be compelled, under the law, to have children certified. They run the risk of prosecution if they are found employing children below nine years who have not been certified; but the law does not prohibit them from relying on their own judgment as to the age of the children if they choose to run that risk. They are, however, bound, under rule 21, to “bring before an Inspector, on the occasion of an inspection, all children employed in the factory.” Civil Surgeons should insist on having all the children mustered before them, and they will be instructed to this effect.

15. Fencing of machinery.—All the dangerous parts of the machinery were properly fenced, and wherever any defects were noticed during the inspections, they were properly attended to.

16. Accidents.—The total number of accidents reported during the year was 417, against 431 and 338 in the two preceding years, respectively. Of these 19 were fatal (against 11 in the previous year, 193 were of a serious nature, and 205 were slight, consisting of bruises, cuts, and falls. There was thus on an average one person injured to every 311 employed during the year, and one person killed to every 6,827. Of the fatal accidents mentioned above, three were caused from an attempt to adjust belts while the machinery was in motion. As accidents arising from this cause are of frequent occurrence in this country, the advisability of legislative interference to prevent their occurrence has been under consideration. It was thought that a circular issued by

Mr. Walsh to all mills in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces, suggesting the introduction of belt shippers and pulley hooks, would have the effect of diminishing the number of accidents, and the rules to be adopted in Bengal for the purpose of minimising the risk of such accidents, are now under the consideration of this Government.

The following are some of the fatal and serious accidents that occurred during the year :—

(1) On the 2nd July 1894, a servant of the Tarpur Sugar Factory, in Jessore, was fatally injured in an attempt to replace a belt which had slipped off the revolving wheel. He was sent to the Jessore Hospital, where he died.

(2) On the 11th August 1894, a cooly of the Kanchrapara Railway Workshop, while looking after the drawbar couplings being fitted on two third-class carriages on the weigh-bridge line, was crushed between the buffers of the two vehicles, which were being hand-shunted at the time, and met with immediate death. He had been warned beforehand, but disregarded the warning.

(3) On the 6th September last, a man employed in the Shannagore Jute Mills, in picking the dappering roller of a carding machine, had his hand entangled into the machinery, and in his attempt to extricate himself, fell within and was killed at once.

(4) On the 20th September 1894, in the Cossipore Foundry and Shell Factory, a cooly, while being pulled up by a rope for hoisting a chain, fell down owing to the rope giving way. He died on his way to hospital.

(5) On the 22nd September 1894, a cooly in the Baranagore Branch Jute Mill, while oiling a spinning machine, accidentally slipped over it and received serious injuries, which resulted in his death after lying two days in the Campbell Hospital.

(6) On the 25th September 1894, in the Gouripore Jute Mills, while an employé was engaged in tying on mats to the sides of jute piles, two jute bales rolled upon him, breaking his leg, hand and back. He was immediately sent to the Hooghly hospital, where he died.

(7) On the 31st October 1894, a bale of paper fell out of sling on a cooly of the Tittaghur Paper Mill while a boat was being loaded. The man was severely injured, and was removed to hospital, where he died.

(8) On the 9th November 1894, a moulder of the Cossipore Gun Foundry, while passing by a machine where tin cups were being made, received an injury on his abdomen, by a cup splitting out of the machinery. He was removed to the North Suburban Hospital, where he died.

(9) On the 30th October 1894, a Muhammadan boy of 15 or 16 years of age was found dead, in a sleeping posture, near the boilers of the Bengal Iron and Steel Works at Raniganj. The accident, which occurred near the boilers, was due to a leakage of gas at one of the safety valves, and to the neglect of the men on duty in not stopping it more promptly, and then to their endeavouring to stop it themselves when it had already attained dangerous proportions, without giving any intimation to the officer then on duty. That officer found that five of the men on duty were more or less stupefied by gas, and took immediate steps to restore them to consciousness with success. The Muhammadan boy was not found until long after, and no one could tell what he was doing in that place and how he got there.

(10) A cooly at work in the Champdani Mill at Serampore was caught in the belting while shipping it on to the shafting and was carried upwards to the roof and had his head smashed in. Death was instantaneous.

(11) A cooly at the Wellington Mills in the Serampore subdivision fell into the crankshaft pit and had his back broken. He died half an hour afterwards.

(12) A cooly at the Central Jute Mills was killed while trying to put on a belt that was off the pulley without asking the sardar to stop the engine.

(13) On the 19th May 1894, a workman in the Locomotive Workshop at Jamalpur, named Kadir, while engaged in crane lifting, got his foot badly crushed by a cast-iron flooring plate, which he had neglected to fasten securely with chains and hooks provided for the purpose.

17. Prosecutions.—No prosecution was instituted in any of the factories during the year under report.

REMARKS AND ORDERS.

I recently inspected the Factory noted above, and found that all requirements of the Factory Act and of the Rules issued under section 18 of the Act had been duly observed, that all orders passed in my previous Inspection Reports* had been carried out to my satisfaction, with the following exceptions†

Signature of District Magistrate or other Inspector.

INSTRUCTIONS.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2676.

The 6th August 1895.—The following papers are published for general information.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

*Extract, paragraph 9, from the letter from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
No. $\frac{G}{19F}$, dated the 13th May 1895.*

PARA. 9.—Results of inspection.—On the whole, 37 more inspections were held during the year under report than in the previous year. It appears from the reports received from the several Inspectors that the requirements of the Factories Act and the rules framed thereunder were generally complied with, and that suggestions made by the Inspectors as regards sanitary improvements, supply of drinking water and attention to the rules, were readily attended to. The Bengal Cotton Mills seem to form an exception. The manager of this mill has often been found to disregard orders and to employ children in his factory under the age of nine years. I have requested the Magistrate to give him a formal warning of the measures which the law allows to be taken against him, if he continues to disregard the authority of the officers of Government.

No. 1939, dated Calcutta, the 4th June 1895.

From—N. BONHAM-CARTER, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal,
General Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. $\frac{G}{19F}$, dated the 13th May 1895, submitting the report on the working of the Indian Factories Act in your Division during the year 1894, I am directed to request that a special report may be submitted on the disregard of orders by the manager of the Bengal Cotton Mills, and the employment in his factory of children under nine years, mention of which is made in paragraph 9 of your letter.

No. $\frac{G}{22F}$, dated Calcutta, the 23rd July 1895.

From—E. V. WESTMACOTT, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WITH reference to your No. 1939, dated the 4th June last, and the subsequent reminder, I have the honour to submit, for the information of Government, copy of letter No. 2493, dated the 27th idem, from the Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, on the subject of employment of children under nine years of age at the Bengal Cotton Mills.

2. With regard to paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Magistrate's letter, I have informed him that in any case in which an Inspector feels any doubt as to a child's age, he must call for a regular certificate from the certifying Surgeon, who is specified in paragraph 6 of Government Resolution No. 1312, dated the 30th April 1892, and that the certificate of a mill doctor cannot be accepted.

No. 2493, dated Alipore, the 27th June 1895.

From—E. W. COLLIN, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of the 24-Parganas,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 47G.F., dated the 13th instant, on the subject of the employment of children at the Bengal Cotton Mills, it appears that in June 1894, the Civil Surgeon reported that the age of all the children employed had been certified. On the 6th November 1894, out of 263 children, 55 were examined and 6 were found below nine years of age. In your letter No. 138G.F., dated the 27th November, it was said that the six children should not be allowed to work. On the 30th November the Special Inspector complained that the register of children in Form E was not kept in proper form, nor were certificates of ages given in the proper forms. He also reported that there was no regular manager there, and that the management of the factory was lax. The agents were addressed, and were requested to see that the Register E was properly kept up, and that no child was admitted without a certificate of age. In March 1895, the Special Inspector of Factories reported that the Register E was kept up to date, and that the names of children were correctly entered and their ages certified.

2. On the 11th April 1895, the mills were again inspected by the Civil Surgeon. He examined 44 children out of 150 employed, and found three under age, and on the 10th May 1895, the manager was warned that the employment of children under the age of nine in contravention of section 7(1) of the Act would make him liable to prosecution.

3. In compliance with your letter No. 97G.F., dated 13th June 1895, I deputed the Joint-Magistrate to make an inquiry. He found that the children declared to be under 9 years of age by the Civil Surgeon at his inspection of the 11th April had been dismissed, and that the manager employs a qualified native doctor, without whose certificate no children are employed.

4. It appears that the manager does not obtain a certificate from a certifying Surgeon as to the age of all children employed, as he has been instructed to do. On this subject I have the honour to refer you to my letter No. 2492, dated the 27th June 1895, from which it will appear that such order is not justified by the law as it at present stands. I have the honour to suggest that if at the next inspection the Civil Surgeon finds any children under nine years of age, the manager should be prosecuted.

No. 2621, dated Calcutta, the 5th August 1895.

From—C. E. BUCKLAND, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, General Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. ^{G.}_{GF.}, dated the 23rd July 1895, and its enclosure, submitting a special report on the disregard of orders by the Manager of the Bengal Cotton Mills in regard to the employment in his factory of children under nine years.

2. In reply, I am to say that the leniency with which the Manager of the mill has been treated for his repeated breaches of the law has been very great, and in future if any breach is proved against him, he should be dealt with according to the strict provisions of the law.

By order,

R. BELCHAMBERS,

Registrar.

It is ordered that the following Rules be read and passed as Rules of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, to take effect from the 12th day of August 1895:—

1. From and after the 12th day of August 1895, three General Cause Lists shall be kept in the Registrar's Office, to be called respectively "General List of Causes," "General List of Suits for Liquidated Claims," and "General List of Commercial Causes."

2. Every suit which is a commercial cause, that is to say, in which the claim arises out of the ordinary transactions of merchants and traders—amongst others, those relating to the construction of mercantile documents, exports or imports of merchandise, affreightment, insurance, banking and mercantile agency and mercantile usage—shall be entered in the General List of Commercial Causes.

3. On and after the 12th day of August 1895, when a plaint is presented, the Judge shall, on the application to that effect of the plaintiff, unless he be of opinion, on reading the plaint, that the suit does not properly belong to the class of commercial causes, as described in rule 2, direct that the suit shall be placed in the General List of Commercial Causes. When no such application is made, it shall be for the Judge, when a plaint is presented, to determine whether the case shall as a commercial cause be placed in such list.

4. Either party may apply, by summons, to the Judge in Chambers that any case entered in the General List of Causes, whether before or after the 12th day of August 1895, may be transferred to the General List of Commercial Causes.

5. Either party may apply, by summons, to the Judge in Chambers, that any case entered in the General List of Commercial Causes may be transferred to the General List of Causes, on the ground only that the case is not a commercial cause; provided that the plaintiff shall not be entitled to apply under this rule for the transfer of a case from the General List of Commercial Causes if such case was entered therein on his application.

6. Whenever two or more Courts shall sit concurrently in the exercise of Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, two or, if there be three Courts, three peremptory lists of defended causes shall be prepared for every working day, and, unless otherwise ordered, one or, if there be three Courts, two of such lists shall be supplied with cases from the General List of Causes, and the other with cases from the General List of Suits for Liquidated Claims, and from the General List of Commercial Causes, and also, when necessary, from the General List of Causes.

7. When only one Court shall sit in the exercise of Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, one peremptory list of defended causes shall be prepared for every working day, and shall be supplied on such day or days of each week as such Judge may order, first with cases from the General List of Suits for Liquidated Claims, next with cases from the General List of Commercial Causes, and next with cases from the General List of Causes.

8. All applications in Chambers and all motions in cases placed in the General List of Commercial Causes will be heard by the Judge in whose list suits for liquidated claims and commercial causes shall for the time being be set down.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—(SANITATION).

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3295S. The 13th August 1895.—The following report by Surgeon-Colonel R. Harvey on the causation of malarial fever is published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 8267, dated Calcutta, the 18th September 1894.

From—SURGEON-COLONEL R. HARVEY, M.D., D.S.O., Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

WITH reference to your No. 3245S., dated 10th August, forwarding copy of the Sanitary Drainage Bill, &c., for favour of opinion, I have the honour to state that, having carefully gone through the Bill and considered all the criticisms on it and on His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor's speech at Dacca, explaining its objects and reasons, I have come to the following conclusions.

That the Bill itself being of a purely technical nature, it is beyond my province or capacity to criticise it, the more so as it does not itself contain any medical facts or arguments with which I could deal.

3. These facts and arguments are contained in His Honour's speech and in the criticisms on the speech and on the reasons which are supposed to justify or to condemn the Bill, and it is on these that I understand my opinion is required. They involve the whole question as to the causation of so-called malarious fevers, and call for an explanation of various differences or supposed differences of medical opinion on that subject.

4. Briefly put, the chief arguments in favour of the Bill are that malarious fevers are as a matter of fact notoriously prevalent and unusually fatal in marshy and water-logged tracts, where defective or obstructed drainage is met with; that in certain districts of Bengal where these conditions obtain they are so prevalent and fatal as to counteract the natural growth of population, and that the most, or indeed the only, effective remedy for such tracts is drainage.

5. It is maintained on the other hand that the cause of malaria is not obstruction to drainage, but poverty;—and numerous medical opinions are cited in proof of this;—that such obstructions as exist are mainly due to railways and roads; that the Act is unnecessary, because such drainage as is required should be provided for by District Boards from the Road Cess Fund; that the people are too poor to pay for costly projects the utility of which is doubtful; and that what money is available should be applied to the more important object of an improved water-supply.

6. The main contention is, however, the first, viz., that malarial fever is not due to obstructed drainage, but to poverty, and much is made in many of the Indian newspapers of the supposed differences of opinion among medical men on this point. So far as I can see, however, there is no such difference of opinion, and the views held by the supporters and opponents of the Bill are perfectly compatible with each other, so far as the causes of malaria are concerned.

7. In most questions of causation many factors are concerned, some of which, though of great importance, are mere accidents, and not essentials. Besides the real, true, or primary cause, we have all sorts of secondary causes, predisposing causes, exciting causes, and causes which may augment or diminish or otherwise modify the action of the true cause. This is specially the case with malaria and its causes, and it is to the ascription of undue importance to secondary issues that much of the confusion of thought and opinion is due. A concrete example may bring this out and serve as an illustration of the complexity of conditions which govern the genesis of malaria. What are the causes of a field of rice ready for the sickle? Every one can see that they are many and complex. Unless the soil is carefully prepared at the
